

2024 Pain Care Skills Training In Person
Pain and Palliative Care: Opioids, Kids, and Communication Pearls
Presenters: Marysa Mumphrey, DO & COL Jeremy Edwards, DO
20 AUGUST AM 0730-1030 EDT
Location: NIH Natcher Center, Room

Course Description: This course provides an overview of opioid management of pain from cancer and other life limiting illnesses in adults and children. This course will also address communication pearls for managing patients with serious and life-limiting illness.

Learning Objectives:

1. Describe the pathophysiology of cancer pain and the biopsychosocial approach for pain management including opioid use
2. Participants will be able to initiate and lead goals of care discussions with empathy and resilience
3. Identify major differences in treating pediatric palliative care patients compared to adults.

Agenda 20 August 2024 AM 0730-1030

0730-0800 Palliative Approach to Pain

0800- 0900 Opioid and other Supportive Medication Management

0900-0915 ----- BREAK-----

0915-1010 Communication Pearls and Goals of Care Discussions

1010-1130 Pediatric Palliative Care